C: Boarding my first flight from Mombasa to Nairobi with a return ticket on the same day since it was just to test how wonderful it is to fly. This was the most -memorable experience I will never forget.

It was a present offered to me as birthday gift by a friend who worked at the Airport. I was very excited and since I didn't have any money, I avoided taking anything that was served in the flight, of course I knew 45mins to Mombasa and 45mins back to Nairobi is not a big deal.

It was a good experience and more interesting was when I alighted to get a group of friends waiting me in JKIA Nairobi to hear my story and how I avoided drinks and snacks without realizing that it was all inclusive.

Q: What personality traits and skills do you think to make a great Team Leader

C: One must acknowledge the uniqueness of every team member, understand their weakness and strength and more importantly giving credit. Apply listening as a skill to communicate. Listen to their issues by giving them time.

Show commitment to your duties and to the team by communicating your vision clearly

If possible, inspire and motivate the team while demonstrating self-control, discipline and integrity.

Be honest and faithful and allow God to guide you.

"Great ambiance and good people. It's right next to white clean strip of beach. The services were fantastic especially if you are a large family. Our Kids loved the place, swimming, and soccer"
